

Experience the Rare

Unusual and Unique at the Library of Michigan ....

Where can you find Dr. Seuss, 19th-century Michigan songs, maps and railroad and ferry-boat schedules all in the same room? Why, in the Rare Book Collection at the Library of Michigan, of course! This collection specializes in the rare, the unusual and the unique in an array of physical formats.

The collection features over 10,000 books that range from a law book printed in 1490 to a World War II-era pamphlet written and illustrated by Dr. Seuss. Hundreds of sheets of Michigan music are waiting to be played again. Hundreds of maps, including those of early 19th-century Michigan, provide a singular peek into this state's history. Natural history books from the 1800s offer beautiful hand-colored plates that depict species common to Michigan and North America.

Although the Rare Book Collection is non-circulating, individual items may be viewed and enjoyed by library patrons by appointment. Please contact our rare books curator for more information at 517-373-1300.

For a rare experience, visit the Library of Michigan to learn more about the Rare Book Collection.

Library of Michigan
717 West Allegan • Lansing, MI 48915
517-373-1300
www.libraryofmichigan.org

Monday – Friday:

8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.